2018 ANNUAL DINNER

Wednesday, October 3

featuring keynote speaker

SUSAN STAMBERG

A “founding mother” of National Public Radio

Reception 5:00 pm / Dinner 6:30 pm
Radisson Hotel Downtown
700 Elm Street, Manchester

SUSAN STAMBERG is a renowned broadcast journalist, special correspondent for NPR, first woman to anchor a national nightly news program and a member of the Broadcasting Hall of Fame and the Radio Hall of Fame.

Treat your employees, clients, and guests to a thought-provoking evening with one of the greatest minds of our time. Network with 700-plus leaders from corporate, civic, academic, government, nonprofit, and philanthropic sectors.

Why does your sponsorship matter?

Each year, in every corner of the state, New Hampshire Humanities provides hundreds of opportunities for residents to engage with their neighbors in civil, thoughtful conversation about ideas that matter. Who benefits?

- Adults struggling to read or to learn English
- Veterans reframing their homecoming experiences
- High school students wrestling with the responsibilities of citizenship
- Residents longing for the knowledge and skills needed to fulfill their civic responsibilities

Your sponsorship of the Annual Dinner, our sole fundraising event, provides critical funding that allows our programs to be free and open to all.

ABOUT OUR KEYNOTE SPEAKER:

Nationally renowned broadcast journalist Susan Stamberg is a special correspondent for NPR. Stamberg is the first woman to anchor a national nightly news program, and has won every major award in broadcasting. She has been inducted into the Broadcasting Hall of Fame and the Radio Hall of Fame. An NPR "founding mother," Stamberg has been on staff since the network began in 1971.

Beginning in 1972, Stamberg served as co-host of NPR's award-winning newsmagazine All Things Considered for 14 years. She then hosted Weekend Edition Sunday, and now reports on cultural issues for Morning Edition and Weekend Edition Saturday.

One of the most popular broadcasters in public radio, Stamberg is well known for her conversational style, intelligence, and knack for finding an interesting story. Her interviewing has been called "fresh," "friendly, down-to-earth," and (by novelist E.L. Doctorow) "the closest thing to an enlightened humanist on the radio." Her thousands of interviews include conversations with Laura Bush, Billy Crystal, Rosa Parks, Dave Brubeck, and Luciano Pavarotti.

Stamberg is the author of two books, and co-editor of a third. Talk: NPR's Susan Stamberg Considers All Things chronicles her two decades with NPR. Her first book, Every Night at Five: Susan Stamberg's All Things Considered Book, was published in 1982 by Pantheon. Stamberg also co-edited The Wedding Cake in the Middle of the Road, published in 1992 by W. W. Norton.

In addition to her Hall of Fame inductions, other recognitions include the Armstrong and duPont Awards, the Edward R. Murrow Award from the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, The Ohio State University's Golden Anniversary Director's Award, and the Distinguished Broadcaster Award from the American Women in Radio and Television.
