

Getting the word out is the key to ensuring that your program draws the audience it deserves!

- Local media will need event information from you at least 2 weeks before the event, ideally 4-6 weeks.
- Send a press release to media outlets in your area. You'll find a sample press release in this packet. It's a good idea to check with your speaker(s) first as they may be able to provide additional details and a photo for the press release. You can email the press release to local and regional media along with a photo if available. Include a clear subject line and label attached photos with a caption and credit to the photographer or organization allowing use of the photo.
- Post your event in as many online events calendars as possible. Statewide papers also have online as well as print event calendars. Others to consider:
 - NH Travel and Tourism: <http://visitnh.gov/industry-members/login.aspx>
 - NH 365: <http://nh365.org/>
 - NHPR: <http://www.publicbroadcasting.net/nhpr/events.eventsmain>
- Your venue may also have its own events calendar in print or online. Contact the venue's staff or volunteers to see if they can help publicize your event. Many chambers of commerce have an online event calendar as well.
- Social media is a free and easy tool to use for event publicity. You and your partners can post and share information on your event to your social media networks, and ask your supporters to share them with their friends. For calendar and social media listings, provide a succinct who, what, when and where synopsis of your event. Be sure to include a contact name and phone number for members of the press and the public to obtain more information. A photo makes these postings much more likely to be noticed. And please include "This event is made possible by a grant from New Hampshire Humanities." Please tag us in all social media posting about your project on Facebook (<http://www.facebook.com/newhampshirehumanities>) and Twitter (#NHHumanities).
- Local radio stations may broadcast a brief (free) public service spots that describe your event. A 20-second spot is about 45-50 words; a 30-second spot is about 65 words. Write the spot in simple, conversational style, time the reading, and indicate the length accurately on the copy, so that the station can tape and log it properly. Send it to the radio station at least three weeks before the event for the best chance of getting it on the air.
- Local cable access TV stations will also list your event free of charge. Check beforehand for preferred format, and get your material to the station well in advance of airtime.
- Include the New Hampshire Humanities logo in all publicity materials such as posters, flyers, brochures, events calendars, bookmarks, etc. Please post our logo with the event listing on your website or in your e-newsletter. We prefer that you use our logo in color whenever possible, but we understand that color printing can be costly and we provide both a color and black and white version of our logo on the Administer a Grant page and the Humanities to Go toolkit page of our website.

- When you use our logo or name electronically please make it a live link to our website: <http://www.nhhumanities.org>.
- Posters are effective wherever there is heavy pedestrian traffic (libraries, banks, grocery stores, malls, post offices, town halls). Fliers can be posted, too, and/or distributed at public events, enclosed with organizational mailings, handed out at library circulation desks, etc.
- Contact your local library, Rotary Club, bookstore, high school or college about the program; ask if you can send a poster or flier. Your librarian can also provide a list of local officials, state senators, and representatives from your area. You can also find this information at <http://www.gencourt.state.nh.us/>. Send your local representatives and state senator and other public officials an invitation.
- Remember, New Hampshire Humanities will list your event in our quarterly printed Engage! which is mailed to more than 3,000 people, and on our website. It is imperative that you notify New Hampshire Humanities immediately if there are any changes to the date, time, or venue of your event. Contact Rebecca Kinhan at (603) 224-4071 ext. 16 or rkinhan@nhhumanities.org.
- If a problem arises the day of an event, please CALL New Hampshire Humanities and speak with a staff member in addition to emailing Rebecca, in case she is not in the office. Please feel free to contact Rebecca with any questions about publicizing your event.
- Take a moment to mention New Hampshire Humanities support for your project at each event. The ideal way to provide credit is to invite a New Hampshire Humanities board or staff member to attend your event and make very brief remarks about our work and mission. Contact us for names and contact information.
- Send a letter to our United States Senators, Jeanne Shaheen and Maggie Hassan, and your member of Congress, Chris Pappas, if you are in District 1, or Ann McLane Kuster if you are in District 2, and let them know about your event(s) and that it was made possible through a grant from New Hampshire Humanities, which receives funding through the National Endowment for the Humanities. A sample letter and contact information is included in this packet. The strongest letter will be one where you put your thoughts on the value of New Hampshire Humanities support to your organization in your own words.
- Send us copies of your publicity along with the final report on your grant. Be sure to see the Administer a Grant page of our website for other information on administering your grant.

Thank you!
